Hello and welcome to yet another installment of our Internet History, Technology, Security, and Python for Everybody Office Hours. We're here in The Hague in the Netherlands, and I'd like you to meet some of your fellow students. So, here we go. So, say your name and say, hi, if you have any message or whatever. I'm Wassim and I'm interested in Python and a big fan of Dr. Charles. Hi, my name is Royle. I just started learning Python. I'm so excited to learn more and more about Python. Hi, I'm Baudoin, and I'm also excited about Python, and thanks. My name is Rick. Dr. Chuck is the best. No, you're the best. Hello, I'm Eva and I'm happy to meet Dr. Chuck. Hi, I'm Chris and I'm super happy to be here with Dr. Chuck. Hi. I'm Jane and Dr. Chuck helped me breeze through Python so, it's awesome. Good. Hi. I'm Martin and I'm learning Python from Dr. Chuck, and I love it, too. Hello. My name is Victor. I'm very excited to be here with Professor Chuck and I really want to thank him and Coursera. Because thank to them, now, I'm programming and I really like that programming stuff. Okay. Thank you. I'm Catalina and I really, really, really love this course. So, let's go and give a quick round of applause for Catalina for setting this up and arranging this. So, thank you. No, thank you. It's the first time that someone on Twitter has ever twitted me back, and said, I'll set that up for you. Yes. And so, I appreciate it. Happy to do it. Hello. I'm Jonathan. I follow some of the courses of Dr. Chuck. I usually do the same. Hi, I'm Tim, I took the course of Dr. Chuck and I finally had that opportunity to meet him. Hi, I'm Stefan and I'm following the Python course from Dr. Chuck and I'm loving to meet him. He was very nice, thank you. Oh, my name is Ralph. I'm following the Python course and it's good to see Dr. Chuck again. You have an interesting story about how Coursera affected your employment. Yes, I took a lot of courses on Coursera and edX and now, finally, I got a job. Congratulations. They'll be happy to hear that. Hello. My name is RF and thank you for making this happen that I see other peoples have the same interest, basically. I appreciate it. Thank you. You're welcome. Hi, I'm Rina, and this course gave me a lot of self-confidence. So, thank you. You're very welcome. So again, oops, I cover my own thing, a very large group of folks. It's been kind of chilly here. It's the first day of spring here in Holland. I even saw some tulips coming up but we're all wearing gloves because we're too big to fit inside. And then we sat here for a whole hour until we realized that there were heaters and we didn't turn the heaters on. So, we're working on how to turn the heaters on. So, the next place, I think, that I might see you is Estonia. The next Coursera Office Hours will be in Estonia. So, we'll see you there.
